- Have you seen the signs as in this picture?
- What do they mean?
- Why should we follow them?

The road signs show us the way. They provide safety in our journey. We avoid accidents when we follow these rules. But when we go against these rules, accidents, sometimes even dangerous to our life, do take place.

As the road signs are given to us to make our journey safe, so also some norms are given to us to make our daily life smooth and happy.

We need rules and regulations for the good of the family, school, society and country. They are given to us only for our good. If we follow them, the family, the school, the society and the country will prosper. When we do not follow these rules, the family is in trouble; the education is affected; the society rushes towards destruction and the country becomes weak.
